Kitchen XIX and the first half of XX century

In the Russian cottages, the kitchen served as a place for preparing billets, since the main process of cooking was in an old Russian stove, a little later they started using a primus stove. Only in the middle of the 20th century, with the advent of gas and electric cookers, special rooms for the kitchen appeared everywhere. Kitchen stoves took up very little space, and the room itself was usually quite spacious, as then they began to combine the kitchen function of the dining room.

About the evolution of the kitchen as anything else can say kitchen utensils. So, in the kitchen of the XIX and the beginning of the XX century all kitchen utensils were hung on the walls, the dishes, in which food was prepared, was equipped with special earflaps for which the dishes were hung on a nail. The walls of the old kitchens were hung with utensils; the cutlery was stored in a drawer of the dining table. With the appearance of the first kitchen sets, the dishes began to be folded in drawers and cabinets, and, in the absence of the usual image of kitchen walls - hung with all kinds of utensils, they began to be filled with all sorts of decorative objects, these are not only paintings, but whole compositions of dried flowers and special wall dolls, which also served as a guardian function. Hence the image of the kitchen of country style - the room, whose walls are hung with small decorative elements.

The image of Soviet cuisine

In Soviet times, the mass use of electrical appliances and cabinet furniture began in our country. So, an electric cooker was an integral part of the Soviet kitchen, some families could buy stoves and an oven. The stove usually stood next to the window. Modular furniture was a set of closed hanging cabinets and bedside tables, the presence of a washbasin was mandatory, the sink was initially installed in the corner of the room and was not decorated in any way, eventually the washbasin was mounted in the floor cabinets, thus saving space and the kitchen acquired a more aesthetic appearance.

But the main element of any Soviet cuisine was the kitchen table. This is an ordinary table of uncomplicated form, surrounded by several stools - chairs without backrests. On the table in many families there was necessarily a bottle of vodka, which reflected the image of a true Soviet man.

Modern kitchen

Today, the cuisine does not have any fundamental differences from its predecessors. Objects of the interior of the kitchen have not changed much, but, naturally, their aesthetic appearance has somewhat improved. So, today it's rare to see a kitchen with a square a table surrounded by simple stools. In return for these interior items came the comfortable kitchen corners. In addition, today quite often they make custom-made kitchens.

The kitchen set also changed significantly. There was a great variety of stylistic solutions for kitchen sets, in the modern headset there are always hanging cabinets - showcases. In turn, and changed the stove. Today, built-in slabs are often used, these are no longer bulky constructions, but flat surfaces with burners of different sizes, and sometimes even with a thermostat.

The newest trend is the use of heating based on induction. Among other things, today it is almost impossible to find a kitchen room with kitchen utensils hanging on the walls. Elements of decor on the walls are also rarely used, except in kitchens of country style. But, despite the numerous changes in modern kitchens and in contrast to the kitchens of traditional Russian cottages, the kitchen has been and remains a favorite place for the whole family and a reflection of the cultural heritage of society.

The section where fruit and vegetables are for sale is called a greengrocery. It always attracts a lot of customers because irrespective of the season the counters are full of fresh fruit and vegetables grown in Russia or brought from other countries. Apples and pears, oranges, lemons and tangerines, apricots and peaches, bananas and grapes are practically available all the year round. For those who like berries there are strawberries, raspberries, cherries, cranberries and red bilberries nicely packed in small baskets. If you want to buy vegetables, you will find everything you need: potatoes, carrots, cucumbers, tomatoes, cabbage, beetroot, onion, garlic.

When doing shopping at the supermarket don't forget to look at the expiry date printed on the packet. You are recommended to use the foodstuff before it.

Choosing products customers put them into a special basket and with the basket full go to the cashier. The cashier calls the price and gives them a check.

Visiting a supermarket you considerably save your time.

Everything is sold ready packed. Next to this is the bakery counter where everybody can choose whatever he or she likes: white and brown bread, buns, rolls, rings, pies, cheese cakes and so on.

In the dry groceries counter there is also a great choice of produce. You can buy flour, spice, tea, sugar (lump, cube, granulated) there. Besides, customers can find there various packets filled with dry soup, noodles or chips. They are easy to cook within three minutes.

The meat and fowl counter looks very attractive too. Chicken, ham, pork, bacon, beef, veal and mutton are at your disposal there. You will find a variety of sausages in this section too. A special counter handles frozen and fresh fish; smoked and dry fish is also offered to the customers. Besides, the counter is full of sea products, quite exotic and unseen before. There are crabs, shrimps, crawfish, lobsters, oysters. A large space is occupied with tinned fish.

People buy foodstuffs at the food stores, at the markets and at the supermarkets. It is more convenient to do shopping at the supermarket: you can find there everything you need. More and more people nowadays prefer to provide themselves with foodstuffs for a long period. As they buy in quantities, they go to the supermarket by car and after having done shopping they load their bags and packets into the luggage compartment.

Let us visit one of the supermarkets in the city. It is a one-storied building, spacious and light, with large shop windows. Inside we can see some signs: Dairy produce, Dry groceries, Vegetables and Fruit, Meat and Fowl, Fish, Bakery Goods, Confectionery and Pastry, Wine. The dairy produce counter is well stocked with fresh milk foodstuffs. What is there for sale? Butter, cheese, curds, cream, sour cream, milk, fruit yoghurt, eggs, margarine, mayonnaise.

All day we had to carry out cooks' instructions. The kitchen staffs are very experienced there. The chef is a very skilled cook too. He has worked many years as a cook in this and other restaurants. The main part of his job is to plan the menu for the day and manage the staff in the kitchen.

At the end of the practice time we had to take an examination. We had to prepare three courses: soup, a main course and dessert. I made' Moscow borsch as soup, beef with sour cream and mushrooms as a main course and chocolate soufflé as dessert. Most of all I like to cook desserts. I made these in the shape of stars. Then I put three stars of different sizes and colors on the plate and added some kiwi sauce near them on the plate. It was very nice and tasty.

This practice certainly gave us much information, and more importantly, valuable experience in preparing new dishes. I realized happily that I had made the right choice of profession

There are three departments within the main shop there — a cold shop, a hot shop and a pastry-cook's shop. Salads, snacks, sandwiches, cuts of cold meat and fish and desserts are made in the cold shop. Soups, hot meat and fish dishes and sauces are prepared in the hot shop. In the pastry-cook's shop they make tarts, patties, fancy cakes, etc.

The kitchen staff begin their work at 7 o'clock. We, student cooks had to come to the restaurant at 10 o'clock. Each of us was told to go to one of the shops. There we got a program for the working day. Usually we prepared sandwiches, fruit salads and canapés for breakfast. We cut bread, ham, sausage and vegetables to put on canapés. We also decorated them with herbs and little figures made of carrots, cucumbers, tomatoes, etc. Breakfast was served from 8 till 12. At 11 o'clock we began to help the cooks by preparing dishes for lunch. Student cooks were usually trusted to cut vegetables and make sauces for desserts: strudels, ice cream, tarts and puddings.

I spend a lot of time at the college that is why it's necessary to have a snack time there. During the break I go to have lunch to our college canteen. It's always full of people at this time. I go to the service counter and line up. There is self-service at our canteen. Sometimes it takes quite a lot of time to stand in the line and I have to gulp my lunch in five minutes.

The choice of dishes in our canteen is rather rich, the quality of food is good and the prices are reasonable.

To begin with, I usually have some salad — tomato and cucumber salad or mixed salad. For the first course I have soup — fresh cabbage shchee, solyanka, pea soup or maybe some fish for a change. For the main course I have meat or chicken dishes, for example steak, meatballs or roast chicken with spaghetti or potatoes (mashed or fried). For dessert I usually have fruit juice or a cup of tea with a bun. I take them from the counter, put on my tray and go to the cashier's desk to pay the money. Then I take a seat at any vacant table.

Besides the kitchen staff and the cashier two or three students on duty help to clear the plates and cups off the tables and to keep order in the canteen.
